W. R. GERSTNECKER

3 Directors Named At Great Southwest

Three officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have been elected to the board of Great Southwest Corporation, Angus G. Wynne Jr., president, announced Thursday.

They are Stuart T. Saunders, board chairman of the railroad; David C. Bevan, chairman of the finance committee, and W. R. Gerstnecker, the railroad company's treasurer.

The Pennsylvania Company, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Railroad, recently increased its holdings to about 50 per cent of the common stock of Great Southwest Corporation.

The new board members succeed Toddie L. Wynne, T. L. Wynne Jr. and O. P. Corley, who resigned. George Thompson Jr. also resigned to leave a vacancy on the board.

Gerstnecker said the Pennsylvania is enthusiastic about "the exceptional growth potential" of Great Southwest.

He said the corporation will continue to be operated as a separate company in accordance with its current basic policies and under its present management.
